

Car rental Casablanca — hub & airport CMN

Casablanca is Morocco's economic capital and the main hub of our fleet. Alquiler Coches: useful for Spanish-speaking travellers with a rental car.

From the Hassan II Mosque seafront to the Corniche and downtown business districts, Casablanca is best explored with flexible pickup. Mohammed V Airport (CMN) is the busiest gateway; hotel delivery in the city centre is free within our network. The city sprawls further than Marrakech or Fes, so a car makes more sense here than almost anywhere else on this network — expect wide boulevards, Art Deco buildings from the French Mandate era standing alongside modern towers, and a genuinely working port city rather than a tourist set-piece.

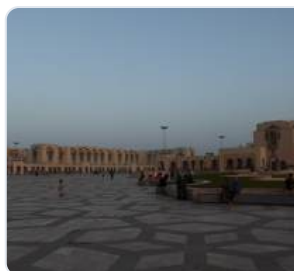

This guide is prepared for visitors of Alquiler Coches (alquilercoches.casa).

City guide

- Hassan II Mosque promenade
- Corniche restaurants and beaches
- Old Medina and Habous quarter
- Mohammed V Square and the Art Deco downtown
- Day trips toward El Jadida or Rabat

Book airport pickup if you land late; traffic peaks weekday mornings and evenings. Give yourself extra time near the mosque on Fridays, when prayer traffic adds to the usual congestion. Book via Alquiler Coches to lock your preferred car.

Highlights

Hassan II Mosque

One of the largest mosques in the world, built right on the Atlantic shoreline so its prayer hall opens onto the sea. The minaret rises over 200 metres and is visible from most of western Casablanca — a useful landmark when you are finding your way back to a coastal hotel.

Non-Muslim visitors can join a guided tour outside prayer times to see the interior. Parking nearby fills up fast on weekends and public holidays, so arrive early if you are driving yourself.

Corniche & Ain Diab

Casablanca's seafront promenade, lined with cafés, beach clubs and restaurants facing the Atlantic. It is the easiest place in the city for an evening walk, and popular with locals for a sunset coffee after work.

Ain Diab at the western end has most of the beach clubs; expect it to be busy on Friday and Saturday evenings. Free parking is limited right on the seafront — side streets a block back are usually easier.

Old Medina & Habous Quarter

Two very different old quarters. The Old Medina near the port is Casablanca's original walled town — narrow lanes, small workshops, and far fewer tourists than Marrakech or Fes. Habous, built by the French in the 1930s in a deliberately traditional style, is calmer and known for its bookshops, bakeries and the Royal Palace nearby.

Both are best explored on foot — leave the car at a guarded lot rather than trying to drive through the narrow streets.

Good to know

A little history

Once a small coastal settlement, Casablanca grew rapidly into Morocco's largest city and main port under French administration in the early 20th century, and remains the country's economic and industrial capital today.

Local customs

- Dress modestly, especially at religious sites and in more traditional neighbourhoods.
- Ask before photographing people directly, especially women.
- Hagglng is expected in souks and markets; fixed-price shops and restaurants are not negotiable.
- A tip of around 10% is customary at restaurants; small tips for guides and porters are appreciated.
- Friday is the main day of prayer — some businesses close or reduce hours around midday.
- During Ramadan, avoid eating, drinking or smoking in public during daylight hours out of respect.
- Alcohol is available at licensed hotels, bars and some restaurants, but not sold everywhere — public intoxication is frowned upon.
- Driving is on the right; seatbelts are mandatory, and traffic already in a roundabout generally has priority.

Emergency information

- Police: 19 (from any phone)
- Gendarmerie Royale (rural areas / highways): 177
- Fire & ambulance (Protection Civile): 15
- Highway emergency (Autoroutes du Maroc): 5050

For anything involving the rental car itself — breakdown, accident, or any question at all — call or WhatsApp us directly first; we're reachable and can usually help faster than a general hotline. Keep your embassy or consulate's contact details with you separately; Moroccan emergency operators may not speak English.

- Cheikh Khalifa International University Hospital — Private university hospital, 24/7 emergency
- Clinique Badr — Private clinic
- Clinique Anoual — Private clinic
